INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The CI Marret Alternative Enhanced Yield Fund (the Fund) seeks to provide income with low volatility over a market cycle regardless of market conditions or general market direction, by primarily investing in both debt instruments across the credit spectrum and cash or cash equivalents. The Fund seeks to provide income while targeting low correlation to equity and traditional income.

The Fund may use leverage. The leverage may be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. The Fund's leverage must not exceed three times the Fund's net asset value. The leverage is calculated in accordance with the methodology prescribed by securities regulations, or any exemptions therefrom.

The Fund invests in debt instruments across the credit spectrum including, but not limited to, cash, government debt, investment grade corporate debt, high-yield debt, credit derivatives, commercial paper, term loans, floating rate securities and other income-producing securities including fixed-income exchange-traded funds.

The portfolio sub-adviser has the latitude to tactically manage the portfolio's. During periods of weak economic growth and widening credit spreads, the portfolio sub-adviser expects to have investments in government debt, in particular Government of Canada and U.S. Treasury securities, but other developed countries may be added tactically. The portfolio sub-adviser will also use government debt to hedge the interest rate risk of the Fund's corporate debt holdings to isolate the credit risk of these holdings. The portfolio sub-adviser may short government debt securities to hedge the interest rate exposure of its corporate debt securities. Investment grade corporate debt securities may be domiciled in Canada, United States and Europe with the intention of creating interest income and capital gains from narrowing credit spreads. The corporate debt will be widely diversified by industry and company. For high yield debt, the portfolio sub-adviser will invest primarily in North American corporate bonds that are rated below BBB- by a recognized bond rating agency. The portfolio sub-adviser may use fundamental analysis as well as active management to generate incremental returns.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $49.1 million to $97.7 million from December 31, 2021 to December 31, 2022. The Fund had net redemptions of $41.6 million for the year. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $3.0 million. The Fund paid distributions totaling $4.5 million. Series A units returned -3.3% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended December 31, 2022. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -4.4%. The benchmark is the FTSE Canada Short Term Corporate Bond Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Throughout 2022, central banks tightened monetary policy at the fastest pace in over 40 years to fight elevated and persistent inflation. This tighter monetary policy was a challenge across asset classes, with government bonds, corporate debt and equities all suffering significant losses.

Before the year began, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) shifted its views on inflation, no longer characterizing it as transitory. The Fed communicated an accelerated withdrawal of monetary accommodation would likely be needed. The markets' initial reaction was sanguine, and investors were skeptical that central banks could tighten policy substantially without causing a growth slowdown. As employment and inflation data consistently came in stronger than expected, worsened by Russia's invasion of Ukraine, investors began to be concerned about the magnitude of the monetary tightening cycle.

Central banks began to aggressively raise interest rates mid-year. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board raised its rate by 75 basis points four times in a row. The Bank of Canada raised its overnight rate by 100 basis points in July. The European Central Bank raised its rate at least 50 basis points in four straight meetings. Markets drove government bond yields higher, pushing the terminal federal funds rate to over 5% at times.

Corporate bond and equity performance was volatile in the second half of the year. Weaker economic data in the second half of 2022 indicated tighter monetary policy may be achieving the desired growth slowdown that would reduce inflationary pressures. Investors began to hope for a deceleration or pause in monetary policy tightening. However, labour markets continued to show strength, and central banks remained steadfast in their messaging that further tightening was required to combat inflation.

For the year, U.S. equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, were down 19%. Meanwhile, 10-year U.S. Treasury yields, 10-year Government of Canada yields, investment-grade corporate bonds and high-yield corporate bonds declined approximately -15%, -11%, -15% and -11%, respectively. Asset classes suffered across the board, except energy-related securities that benefited from strong demand and reduced supply because of sanctions against Russia.

CI Marret Alternative Enhanced Yield Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended December 31, 2022

The Fund outperformed its benchmark for the year. A lower duration (sensitivity to interest rates) to begin the year, tactical credit positioning and interest rate hedges contributed to its performance. The Fund's duration steadily increased throughout most of the year and was tactically increased several times on rate backups and rallies.

The Fund's exposure to corporate credit was reduced after the March sell-off. The Fund's investment-grade bond exposure was reduced by swapping into front-end paper while its high-yield credit risk (weighting and duration) was reduced from March onwards. The Fund's equity weighting increased in the March sell-off but was reduced to zero soon after.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect that coordinated global monetary tightening at a record-breaking pace is very likely to result in a recession. Monetary policy is likely to stay too tight for too long as central banks focus on strength in lagging economic data. Excess savings built up from COVID-19 pandemic fiscal stimulus has allowed the economy to remain resilient thus far. We believe those savings should be sufficiently drawn down and will stop providing support in 2023.

Investors have so far reacted positively to any hint of a pause in monetary policy tightening. Volatility should remain elevated and shifts in valuations should continue as markets try to anticipate the path of interest rates.

We expect investors will still react positively to a pause in interest rate increases. However, we believe that any market rally will be short lived as central banks can be expected to hold interest rates at a restrictive level, leading to a challenging market environment.

Assets with higher interest rate sensitivity are likely to perform better while riskier assets may suffer a substantial drawdown in a recession scenario. We will continue to rotate the Fund between asset classes based on relative value opportunities as investor sentiment shifts. Given the inverted yield curve, we will focus on generating carry using short-duration, high-quality fixed-income securities while adding longer-duration government holdings on rate backups to protect the Fund in a recessionary environment.

The applicable standing instructions require, amongst others, that related party transactions be conducted in accordance with the Manager's policies and procedures and applicable law and that the Manager advise the IRC of any material breach of such policies. LEVERAGE

When a Fund makes investments in derivatives, borrows cash for investment purposes, or uses physical short sales on equities or other portfolio assets, leverage may be introduced into the Fund. Leverage occurs when the Fund's notional exposure to underlying assets is greater than the amount invested. It is an investment technique that magnifies gains and losses. Consequently, any adverse change in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index may amplify losses compared to those that would have been incurred if the underlying asset had been directly held by the Fund and may result in losses greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself. Leverage may increase volatility, may impair the Fund's liquidity and may cause the Fund to liquidate positions at unfavorable times.

To achieve its investment objective the Fund exercises leverage through participating in short selling transactions.

The Fund's aggregated amount of leverage must not exceed three times the Fund's net asset value.

During the period/year ended December 31, 2022, the lowest aggregate amount of leverage exercised by the Fund was $2.32 million (2.4% of net asset value) and the highest aggregate amount of leverage used during the period/year was $7.1 million (4.5% of net asset value).

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs including securities borrowing fees expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable. As of Dec. 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 the trading expense ratio including interest and dividends on short positions was 0.18%, 0.17% and 0.18%, respectively.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended December 31.

(6) Per units amounts are presented in U.S. dollars.

(7) Closing market price.
