RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets increased by $4.4 million to $52.8 million from December 31, 2023 to June 30, 2024. The Fund had net redemptions of $2.0 million for the period. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $6.7 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $0.3 million. CI ONE Units returned 14.0% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended June 30, 2024. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmarks returned 12.8% and 13.1%, respectively. The benchmarks are a combination of the MSCI World Total Return Index - 70% and the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index - 30% (new) and a combination of the S&P Global 1200 Index - 70% and the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index - 30% (old) (the New Benchmark or the New Index or the Old Benchmark or the Old Index). During the period/year we changed the reference index of the Fund. We believe that the New Benchmark better reflects the nature of the Fund.

Global equity returns during the period were mixed, with large-capitalization U.S. equities remaining positive while Canadian and international developed market stocks showing weakness. Fixed income returns recovered somewhat during the period.

Inflation continued to be a concern but was trending downward. The Bank of Canada cut its overnight policy rate by 0.25% in June 2024, bringing it down from 5.00% to 4.75%. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board maintained the federal funds rate, and it is not expected to lower interest rates until late fall 2024.

Economic indicators continue to show a slowing economy. Manufacturing in both the United States and Canada showed neutral to being slightly expansionary. The services industries continued to hold up. Labour markets were still tight but showed signs that employment was cooling. Geopolitical conflicts continued, but financial markets took them in stride, believing they will remain localized.

The Fund outperformed its benchmarks over the period. Underweight allocations to the real estate, consumer discretionary and financials sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance were overweight positions in NVIDIA Corp. and SAP SE.

Underweight exposures to the materials and industrials sectors detracted from the Fund's performance. Overweight holdings in Intel Corp. and salesforce.com inc. were the largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance.

We increased existing holdings in Adobe Inc. and NVIDIA Corp., and we trimmed the Fund's holding in iShares Micro-Cap ETF.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Our expectations are for a slowing in both the U.S. and Canadian economies. We should avoid a recession, but the economy is expected to slow through the end of this year and reaccelerate in early 2025. While a stock market correction cannot be ruled out, corporate fundamentals do not raise alarms about the overall economy and its resilience. The U.S. presidential election should heat up this coming quarter, and some disruptions may be in store for financial markets. We are looking to continue to invest in high-quality companies with good earnings-per-share growth and strong balance sheets.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended June 30, 2024 and December 31.

(6) Closing market price.
