INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The investment objective of the CI U.S. Treasury Inflation-linked Bond Index ETF (CAD Hedged) (the Fund) is to replicate, to the extent reasonably possible, the performance of the Solactive U.S. Treasury Inflation-Linked Bond Hedged to CAD Total Return Index (the Index). The Index is a rules-based, market value-weighted index engineered to measure the performance of TIPS issued by the U.S.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets increased by $6.1 million to $27.3 million from December 31, 2021 to December 31, 2022. The Fund had net sales of $11.5 million for the year. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $3.4 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $2.0 million. The Fund returned -12.3% after fees and expenses for the year ended December 31, 2022. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -12.3%. The benchmark is the Solactive U.S. Treasury Inflation-Linked Bond Hedged to CAD TR Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

It was a challenging year for both equities and fixed income in 2022. Canadian equities, as measured by the S&P/TSX 60 Composite Index, were down 6.2%, with the information technology and financials sectors contributing most to the decline. U.S. equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, declined 18.1%, with the information technology and consumer discretionary sectors leading the decline. Former growth areas suffered the most, while long-time underperformers in the energy sector outperformed, benefiting from Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Global markets were otherwise negatively impacted by rising energy prices as well as China's zero-COVID policy.

Canada's bond market, as measured by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, was down 11.7% as the yield curve inverted while bond yields rose across all terms. While the 30-year bond yield rose 160 basis points (bps) compared to the two-year bond yield rise of 310 bps, 30-year bonds experienced a -28% total return compared to -2% for the two-year bond. Credit spreads (the difference in yield between corporate and government bonds of similar maturities) on corporate bonds widened by approximately 50 bps.

The yield curve inversion (where short-term yields are higher than longer-term yields) and higher bond yields overall were driven by aggressive central bank interest rate increases. The Bank of Canada raised its policy rate by 400 bps in 2022, from 0.25% to 4.25%. Inflation in Canada peaked at 8.1% in June 2022 but trended down to 6.8% by November. On top of supply chain issues and higher commodity prices, the labour market remained tight, which likely contributed to higher inflation. After hitting a low of 4.9% in June 2022, the unemployment rate ended the year at 5.1%.

The Fund performed in line with its benchmark for the year. The largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance were longer-term positions in U.S. Treasury bonds (0.75% Feb. 15, 2045, 0.125% Feb. 15, 2051 and 0.25% Feb 15, 2050).

Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included shorter-term holdings in U.S. Treasury bonds (0.25% Jan. 15, 2025, 0.625% Jan. 15, 2024 and 0.125% Jul. 15, 2024).

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Despite a strong start to equity markets in 2023, consensus expectations are for a mild to moderate recession this year, driven by persistently high inflation, an ongoing energy crisis and tightening monetary activity from central banks. The extreme levels of tightening undertaken by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) and other central banks are already causing some areas of the economy to slow, specifically housing and commodities. Consumer spending is expected to slow, given the combined effects of elevated food and energy prices and higher interest rates, all working to reduce disposable income.

CI U.S. Treasury Inflation-linked Bond Index ETF (CAD Hedged)

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended December 31, 2022

Inflation has likely peaked, which should slow the pace of interest rate increases. These factors are likely to have a negative impact on corporate earnings in the early part of 2023. Combined with sustainably higher interest rates, it may be difficult for stock valuations to rise in the first half of the year. However, while slowing economic performance is likely to occur in the short term, lower inflation and a less aggressive Fed could lay the groundwork for a much more favourable outlook for equities later in 2023. Global equities should also benefit from an eventual full reopening of China from COVID-19 pandemic lockdowns.

In Canada, there are only 25 bps of interest rate hikes priced in, and then interest rate cuts starting in October 2023. In the United States, market participants have priced in another 50 bps of interest rate increases, and then interest rate cuts starting in July. However, it is not clear that central banks will have the ability to cut interest rates in 2023. The inflation target is 2%, which means there is a long way to go to bring inflation down to target. Regardless, if inflation continues to decline and central banks pause, this should be somewhat beneficial to fixed-income securities. If interest rate cuts do materialize, this would be a positive for bonds.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended December 31.
