INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The investment objective of the CI Health Care Giants Covered Call ETF (the Fund) is to provide unitholders with (i) regular cash distributions, (ii) the opportunity for capital appreciation by investing on an equal weight basis in a portfolio of equity securities of at least the 20 largest health care companies measured by market capitalization listed on a North American stock exchange, and (iii) lower overall volatility of returns on the portfolio than would be experienced by owning a portfolio of securities of such issuers directly, by employing a covered call option writing program. The issuers included in the portfolio, which are based on their market capitalization, may be adjusted based on the Portfolio Manager's view on the liquidity of the issuers' equity securities and their related call options.

The Fund invests in a portfolio of equity securities of at least the 20 largest health care companies measured by market capitalization listed on a North American stock exchange. Health care companies are companies in the health care sector, which includes companies which are involved in medical services or health care, including biotechnology research and production, drugs and pharmaceuticals and health care facilities and services, as well as companies that service those companies, provided however, that the determination of what constitutes a health care company shall be at the sole discretion of the Portfolio Manager. The Fund will generally invest in health care companies with a market capitalization in excess of $1 billion and which pay dividends on their common shares.

Each month the Portfolio Manager employs a covered call option writing program on approximately, and not more than, 25% (determined at the time of writing) of the securities of each portfolio issuer, in order to seek to earn attractive tax effective income from dividends, distributions and call option premiums, to lower the overall volatility of returns associated with owning a portfolio of these securities, and to generate capital appreciation. Call options may be sold on each individual portfolio security or may be sold on a basket basis, encompassing more than one portfolio security, in the discretion of the Portfolio Manager.

The issuers included in the portfolio, which are based on their market capitalization, may be adjusted based on the Portfolio Manager's view on the liquidity of the issuers' equity securities and their related call options.

The portfolio will be rebalanced as soon as practicable, in the determination of the Portfolio Manager, at the end of each calendar quarter, so that immediately following such rebalancing, the Fund's portfolio issuers are approximately equally weighted. In order to facilitate distributions and/or pay expenses of the Fund, the Portfolio Manager may sell portfolio securities of the Fund at its discretion in which case the weighting of the portfolio will be affected.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the period/year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the period/year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets increased by $2.2 million to $92.3 million from December 31, 2022 to December 31, 2023. The Fund had net sales of $8.2 million for the year. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $0.4 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $6.4 million. Please refer to the "Past Performance" section which outlines the performance of the Fund's other units.

In North America, markets were dominated by speculation around the interest rate cycle. During the year, central banks continued to tighten monetary policy to combat inflation. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) raised interest rates four times, with the federal funds rate reaching 5.50% by December. The Bank of Canada raised its overnight rate by 50 basis points (bps) to 5.00%. Yield curves remained inverted. In Canada, bond yields declined somewhat, with the two-, 10- and 30-year yields declining 16 bps, 19 bps and 25 bps, respectively.

Credit spreads (the difference between the yield on corporate bonds over government bonds) on Canadian corporate bonds tightened somewhat, by approximately 30 bps. Credit spreads on provincial bonds were barely changed, down 8 bps in aggregate.

Global economic growth was expected to moderate in the second half of 2023, with core inflation remaining above 3%. Persistent high inflation exerted pressure on central banks, suggesting the possibility of continued monetary tightening in various regions. Inflation in Canada dropped for the year, from 6.3% to 3.1% (for November 2023). Inflation in the United States showed a similar pattern, down to 3.1% from 6.5%.

The Fed signalled an end to its interest rate hikes in December 2023, indicating potential rate cuts. This led to positive market sentiment and a shift of investments towards fixed income and interest rate-sensitive sectors.

Equity markets rebounded in the latter part of the year, with U.S. equity indexes showing impressive growth. The rebound was driven by lower inflation, a drop in U.S. Treasury yields and a stronger-than-expected gross domestic product growth. The equity surge occurred despite low earnings growth, highlighting the market's resilience and optimism for a soft economic landing.

In the United States, information technology stocks and small- to mid-capitalization equities significantly rebounded, with energy stocks also showing strong performance. In contrast, Japanese equities faced challenges amid concerns about yen appreciation, despite strong stock market performance. Emerging markets showed varied performance, with some regions benefiting from softening U.S. monetary policy while others, like China, faced economic challenges.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark for the year. The largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance were positions in Pfizer Inc., Bristol-Myers Squibb Co. and CVS Health Corp.

Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included holdings in Eli Lilly and Co., Zoetis Inc. and Stryker Corp.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Declining inflation has led investor expectations towards potential interest rate cuts. Central banks, still focused on long-term price stability, recognize that their policies have become adequately restrictive but have not yet fully committed to lowering interest rates. The timing, pace and magnitude of interest rate reductions will hinge on the trajectory of inflation and ongoing health of the economy. A stable economy with lower inflation should lead to a slow and gradual reduction in interest rates.

Despite the challenges of higher borrowing costs and a slowdown in consumer and corporate spending, the resilience of household and corporate balance sheets is notable. Supported by a historically low unemployment rate and expectations of forthcoming interest rate cuts, the economy should avoid a severe slowdown over the medium term. As the world adjusts to a lower inflation environment, economic activity is predicted to be slow to moderate early in 2024, eventually giving way to reasonable though likely sub-trend growth.

The United States is emerging as a clear leader in innovation, particularly in the field of artificial intelligence. Technological advancements are not just a trend but a significant growth driver, with regions investing in these technologies poised to gain substantial long-term economic benefits. The global trade landscape, which is recovering from previous slowdowns, is expected to see a steady upswing. This improvement should benefit sectors such as energy, manufacturing and finished goods.

2024 is poised to be a period characterized by efforts to quell inflation, which should lead to more affordable borrowing costs. Innovation will likely be crucial for driving economic growth. Key factors, such as the potential for interest rate reductions and the implications of the U.S. presidential election, are set to play a role in sculpting the global economic landscape. The coming year promises a blend of challenges and opportunities.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.
