INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The investment objective of the CI WisdomTree Emerging Markets Dividend Index ETF (the Fund) is to track, to the extent possible, the price and yield performance of the WisdomTree Emerging Markets Dividend Index CAD (the Benchmark or the Index), before fees and expenses. The Index is a fundamentally weighted index that measures the performance of dividend-paying stocks within emerging markets.

The investment strategy of the Fund is to invest in and hold a proportionate share of the constituent securities of the Index or otherwise invest in a manner intended to track the price and yield performance of the Index.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the period/year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the period/year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $19.4 million to $44.8 million from December 31, 2022 to December 31, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $25.3 million for the year. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $8.7 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $2.8 million. Non-Hedged units returned 15.8% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended December 31, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 17.2%. The benchmark is the WisdomTree Emerging Markets Dividend Total Return Index (The Benchmark or The Index).

In North America, markets were dominated by speculation around the interest rate cycle. During the year, central banks continued to tighten monetary policy to combat inflation. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) raised interest rates four times, with the federal funds rate reaching 5.50% by December. The Bank of Canada raised its overnight rate by 50 basis points (bps) to 5.00%. Yield curves remained inverted. In Canada, bond yields declined somewhat, with the two-, 10- and 30-year yields declining 16 bps, 19 bps and 25 bps, respectively.

Global economic growth was expected to moderate in the second half of 2023, with core inflation remaining above 3%. Persistent high inflation exerted pressure on central banks, suggesting the possibility of continued monetary tightening in various regions. Inflation in Canada dropped for the year, from 6.3% to 3.1% (for November 2023). Inflation in the United States showed a similar pattern, down to 3.1% from 6.5%.

The Fed signalled an end to its interest rate hikes in December 2023. This led to positive market sentiment and a shift of investments towards fixed income and interest rate-sensitive sectors.

Equity markets rebounded in the latter part of the year, with U.S. equity indexes showing impressive growth. The rebound was driven by lower inflation, a drop in U.S. Treasury yields and a stronger-than-expected gross domestic product growth. The equity surge occurred despite low earnings growth, highlighting the market's resilience and optimism for a soft economic landing.

In the United States, information technology stocks and small- to mid-capitalization equities significantly rebounded, with energy stocks also showing strong performance. In contrast, Japanese equities faced challenges amid concerns about yen appreciation, despite strong stock market performance. Emerging markets showed varied performance, with some regions benefiting from softening U.S. monetary policy while others, like China, faced economic challenges.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark for the year. The Fund's allocations to the materials, real estate and communication services sectors detracted from performance. The largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance were positions in Ping An Insurance (Group) Co. of China Ltd., Impala Platinum Holdings Ltd. and China Steel Corp.

Exposure to the information technology, financials and energy sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included holdings in Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd. and MediaTek Inc.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Declining inflation has led investor expectations towards potential interest rate cuts. Central banks, still focused on long-term price stability, recognize that their policies have become adequately restrictive but have not yet fully committed to lowering interest rates. The timing, pace and magnitude of interest rate reductions will hinge on the trajectory of inflation and ongoing health of the economy. A stable economy with lower inflation should lead to a slow and gradual reduction in interest rates.

Despite the challenges of higher borrowing costs and a slowdown in consumer and corporate spending, the resilience of household and corporate balance sheets is notable. Supported by a historically low unemployment rate and expectations of forthcoming interest rate cuts, the economy should avoid a severe slowdown over the medium term. As the world adjusts to a lower inflation environment, economic activity is predicted to be slow to moderate early in 2024, eventually giving way to reasonable though likely sub-trend growth.

The United States is emerging as a clear leader in innovation, particularly in the field of artificial intelligence. Technological advancements should be a significant growth driver, with those investing in these technologies poised to gain long-term economic benefits. The global trade landscape is expected to see a steady upswing, which should benefit sectors such as energy, manufacturing and finished goods.

2024 is poised to be a period characterized by efforts to quell inflation, which should lead to more affordable borrowing costs. Innovation will likely be crucial for driving economic growth. Key factors, such as the potential for interest rate reductions and the implications of the U.S. presidential election, are set to play a role in sculpting the global economic landscape. The coming year promises a blend of challenges and opportunities.

Amendment to the Declaration of Trust

Effective May 30, 2023, the declaration of trust for the Fund was amended, mainly to conform with current practice within the securities industry and to update the benchmarks names for certain Funds. The amendment does not adversely affect the rights, privileges or interests of the unitholders. (1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended December 31.

(6) Closing market price.
