Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -11.3%. The benchmark is a combination of the MSCI World Total Return Index - 80% and the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Total Return Index - 20% (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A shares, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

The following commentary pertains to the results of operations of the Underlying Funds.

During the period, any notion that global inflation was transitory was quashed as price pressures broadened out across geographies and sectors. This entrenched higher wages since labour markets were tight, with a significant level of job openings. Rising inflation acted as a backdrop to a global interest rate increases by many of the world's central banks. Increases in policy rates were the most aggressive in a generation as central banks strove to become restrictive after more than a decade of extremely accommodative monetary policy. Volatility in both bond markets and equity markets was significantly elevated during the period.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark for the period. Stock selection in the real estate, consumer discretionary and materials sectors detracted from the Fund's performance. Holdings in Alphabet Inc., Meta Platforms Inc. and Microsoft Corp. were the largest individual detractors from performance as many companies in the information technology sector declined.

The Fund's strategy for duration (sensitivity to interest rates) contributed to its performance, as did credit security selection. Residual exposure to the U.S. dollar also contributed to performance, as did stock selection within the financials and industrials sectors. The two largest individual contributors to the Fund's performance included holdings in Element Fleet Management Corp. and LifeWorks Inc. Element Fleet Management Corp., a Canadian leasing company, was expected to benefit from easing supply chain bottlenecks. LifeWorks Inc., a Canadian consulting firm specializing in human resources, saw its stock rise as the company was acquired at a significant premium.

Inflation was generally stronger than expected, leading global central banks to raise interest rates aggressively, which decreased the value of both equities and bonds. We added a new holding in AstraZeneca PLC and increased an existing holding in Enbridge Inc. LifeWorks Inc. was eliminated from the Fund and Alphabet Inc. was trimmed.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect that economic data will likely weaken toward the end of the year. Investors will be eagerly looking for a shift by the central banks that may indicate an end to the monetary tightening cycle. We believe that the key data points to follow are likely to revolve around the labour market.

With the shift in consumer spending from goods to services, we believe there will be significant deflation in both durable and non-durable goods, but that the pricing of services should continue to trend higher. Therefore, we expect headline inflation to drift lower as a result of discounting from retailers. However, the "stickier" components of inflation (mostly services) are likely to remain uncomfortably high and may postpone any central bank shift in 2022.

Independent Review Committee

Effective October 6, 2022, John Sheedy became a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) of CI Funds.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on shareholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.

(5) This information is provided for the period ended September 30, 2022 and the years ended March 31.
