INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The investment objective of the CI Enhanced Short Duration Bond Fund (the Fund) is to provide absolute returns through interest income and capital gains and its risk objective is to have very low volatility and positive returns over any twelve month period. The Fund invests primarily in debt instruments across the credit spectrum including cash, government debt, investment-grade corporate debt, high-yield corporate debt, government debt futures, convertible debentures and credit derivatives. The Fund's strategy will primarily focus on U.S. and Canadian corporate bonds and will include the use of government bond futures to manage the duration of the Fund according to the volatility objectives. To minimize interest rate volatility, the Fund would typically target an overall portfolio duration of less than 2 years.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets increased by $208.8 million to $1,430.6 million from December 31, 2021 to December 31, 2022. The Fund had net sales of $256.3 million for the year. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $20.2 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $27.3 million. ETF C$ Series returned -1.8% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended December 31, 2022. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -4.4%. The benchmark is the FTSE Canada Short Term Corporate Bond Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

Please refer to the "Past Performance" section which outlines the performance of the Fund's other units.

Throughout 2022, central banks tightened monetary policy at the fastest pace in over 40 years to fight elevated and persistent inflation. This tighter monetary policy was a challenge across asset classes, with government bonds, corporate debt and equities all suffering significant losses.

Before the year began, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) shifted its views on inflation, no longer characterizing it as transitory. The Fed communicated an accelerated withdrawal of monetary accommodation would likely be needed. The markets' initial reaction was sanguine, and investors were skeptical that central banks could tighten policy substantially without causing a growth slowdown. As employment and inflation data consistently came in stronger than expected, worsened by Russia's invasion of Ukraine, investors began to be concerned about the magnitude of the monetary tightening cycle.

Central banks began to aggressively raise interest rates mid-year. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board raised its rate by 75 basis points four times in a row. The Bank of Canada raised its overnight rate by 100 basis points in July. The European Central Bank raised its rate at least 50 basis points in four straight meetings. Markets drove government bond yields higher, pushing the terminal federal funds rate to over 5% at times.

Corporate bond and equity performance was volatile in the second half of the year. Weaker economic data in the second half of 2022 indicated tighter monetary policy may be achieving the desired growth slowdown that would reduce inflationary pressures. Investors began to hope for a deceleration or pause in monetary policy tightening. However, labour markets continued to show strength, and central banks remained steadfast in their messaging that further tightening was required to combat inflation.

For the year, U.S. equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, were down 19%. Meanwhile, 10-year U.S. Treasury yields, 10-year Government of Canada yields, investment-grade corporate bonds and high-yield corporate bonds declined approximately -15%, -11%, -15% and -11%, respectively. Asset classes suffered across the board, except energy-related securities that benefited from strong demand and reduced supply because of sanctions against Russia.

The Fund outperformed its benchmark for the year. A lower duration (sensitivity to interest rates) to begin the year, tactical credit positioning and interest rate hedges contributed to its performance. The Fund's duration increased during the first four months of the year before settling near its upper bound. Duration was tactically adjusted on rate backups and rallies.

The Fund's exposure to corporate credit was reduced after the March sell-off. The Fund's duration of investment-grade bonds was reduced by swapping into front-end paper while its high-yield credit risk (weighting and duration) was reduced from March onwards.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect that coordinated global monetary tightening at a record-breaking pace is very likely to result in a recession. Monetary policy is likely to stay too tight for too long as central banks focus on strength in lagging economic data. Excess savings built up from COVID-19 pandemic fiscal stimulus has allowed the economy to remain resilient thus far. We believe those savings should be sufficiently drawn down and will stop providing support in 2023.

Investors have so far reacted positively to any hint of a pause in monetary policy tightening. Volatility should remain elevated and shifts in valuations should continue as markets try to anticipate the path of interest rates. We expect investors will still react positively to a pause in interest rate increases. However, we believe that any market rally will be short lived as central banks can be expected to hold interest rates at a restrictive level, leading to a challenging market environment.

Assets with higher interest rate sensitivity are likely to perform better while riskier assets may suffer a substantial drawdown in a recession scenario. We will continue to rotate the Fund between asset classes based on relative value opportunities as investor sentiment shifts. Given the inverted yield curve, we will focus on generating carry using short-duration, high-quality fixed-income securities while adding longer-duration government holdings on rate backups to protect the Fund in a recessionary environment.

LEVERAGE

When a Fund makes investments in derivatives, borrows cash for investment purposes, or uses physical short sales on equities or other portfolio assets, leverage may be introduced into the Fund. Leverage occurs when the Fund's notional exposure to underlying assets is greater than the amount invested. It is an investment technique that magnifies gains and losses. Consequently, any adverse change in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index may amplify losses compared to those that would have been incurred if the underlying asset had been directly held by the Fund and may result in losses greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself. Leverage may increase volatility, may impair the Fund's liquidity and may cause the Fund to liquidate positions at unfavorable times.

To achieve its investment objective the Fund exercises leverage through participating in short selling transactions.

The combined use of short selling and cash borrowing by the Fund is subject to an overall limit of 20% of the Fund's net asset value.

During the period/year ended December 31, 2022, the lowest aggregated fair value amount of the leverage exercised by the Fund was $20.3 million (2.4% of net asset value) and the highest aggregated fair value amount of the leverage used during the period/year was $75.3 million (6.3% of net asset value).

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs including securities borrowing fees expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable. As of Dec. 31, 2022, 2021, 2020, 2019 and 2018 the trading expense ratio including interest and dividends on short positions was 0.15%, 0.10%, 0.11%, 0.24% and 0.07%, respectively.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended December 31.

(6) Closing market price.

(7) Per units amounts are presented in U.S. dollars.

[^]Historical information pertaining to HST is not available.
