RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $117.6 million to $1,081.9 million from March 31, 2023 to September 30, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $76.5 million during the period. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $28.9 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $12.2 million. Series A units returned -3.1% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -0.7%. The benchmark is a combination of the S&P/TSX Completion Total Return Index - 70% and the S&P MidCap 400 Total Return Index - 30% (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Inflation declined during the period due to restrictive monetary policy and higher interest rates, as well as an easing of global supply chain pressures. Residential construction activity contracted amid higher mortgage rates, and there have been early signs of weakness within certain pockets of commercial real estate, such as office and retail. Unemployment remained at near-record lows, but there was upward pressure on wages and increased labour strikes. Inflation and higher interest rates in mortgages, autos and credit card debt dampened consumer spending on discretionary purchases.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark for the period. Security selection in the financials sector detracted from the Fund's performance, as did its allocation to the energy sector. The largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance were Sensata Technologies Holding PLC and Dye & Durham Ltd. Sensata Technologies Holding PLC was negatively impacted by inflation in component and logistics costs and concerns that rising interest rates could reduce demand for new vehicles. Dye & Durham Ltd.'s share price underperformed because of persistently weak free cash flow generation, which has raised concerns about the company's elevated debt and acquisition strategy.

Stock selection in the real estate sector contributed to the Fund's performance, as did its allocation to the materials sector. Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included holdings in Live Nation Entertainment Inc. and Stantec Inc. Live Nation Entertainment Inc. outperformed because demand for live events remained robust relative to other recreational activities and consumers displayed limited sensitivity to the recent rise in ticket prices for premium events. Stantec Inc.'s share price outperformed amid robust demand for infrastructure-related projects, many of which are funded by the U.S. Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act and Inflation Reduction Act. The business has also successfully expanded its breadth of services and captured more value through pricing.

We added a new position in Park Lawn Corp., an owner and operator of funeral homes, cemeteries and crematoriums across Canada and the United States. We initiated a position in the company because we believe the market has overreacted to a decline in death rates following the COVID-19 pandemic, which caused the company's shares to trade at a discount. An existing holding in Superior Plus Corp. was increased based on the company's recent acquisition of Certarus Ltd., which specializes in compressed and renewable natural gas distribution.

A position in Converge Technology Solutions Corp. was eliminated from the Fund amid concerns that technology spending could slow and due to questionable capital allocation decisions and communication from management. A position in dentalcorp Holdings Ltd. was trimmed because of weak organic growth and unclear communication from management regarding its capital allocation strategy. However, we remain shareholders of the company because the company benefits from stable underlying demand for dental services.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect elevated inflation to persist over the near term and thus favour businesses that have sustainable competitive advantages that allow them to exercise pricing power. Globally, central banks have raised interest rates aggressively to combat inflation. This has put pressure on the valuations of high-growth information technology companies and companies in cyclical sub-sectors, including housing, luxury goods and industrial components. While we do not position the Fund based on specific macroeconomic factors, we believe the recent valuation pullback has presented compelling opportunities to build positions in high-quality companies within these spaces.

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended September 30, 2023

In our opinion, the Russia-Ukraine conflict has reshaped the global energy supply chain. The North American energy sector has benefited from elevated pricing and is well-positioned to ramp up volumes to alleviate the shortage of crude oil and natural gas, especially in Europe. However, we remain cognizant of potential offsetting pressure from demand destruction and the economic slowdown induced by central banks to tame inflation.

Consumer budgets have been pressured by elevated inflation and deteriorating housing affordability. While we remain cautious, we expect consumer spending will be fairly resilient amid excess savings accumulated during the COVID-19 pandemic, record home equity and low unemployment. We expect spending to remain especially resilient in travel, entertainment and experiences, which consumers were unable to enjoy during the pandemic.

We continue to favour companies that can endure any economic environment as well as businesses with short-term challenges that are trading at prices well below our estimate of their intrinsic value. We continue to place an emphasis on balance sheet resilience and liquidity, which enables businesses to continue investing through an economic downturn and ultimately emerge stronger when conditions recover.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended September 30, 2023 and March 31.
