RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets increased by $45.9 million to $382.7 million from March 31, 2021 to September 30, 2021. The Fund had net sales of $20.5 million during the period. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $25.4 million. Series A units returned 6.9% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2021. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 7.1%. The benchmark is the MSCI ACWI Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

The pace of acceleration in economic growth, earnings, fiscal and monetary stimulus, and equity returns slowed during the period, but equities continued to perform well. Global equities, as measured by the MSCI All Country World Index, increased by close to 8.5%. An equity sell-off in September somewhat dampened an otherwise very positive six months. Rising U.S. yields, fears of stagflation (high inflation combined with high unemployment and slowing economic growth), and increased regulatory and growth risk from China weighed on equity performance in the third quarter of 2021.

The Fund slightly underperformed its benchmark. Stock selection modestly detracted from the Fund's performance. An underweight exposure to the information technology sector and overweight allocation to materials also detracted from performance. The largest individual detractors from performance were Barrick Gold Corp., MGM China Holdings Ltd. and Pinterest Inc. Barrick Gold Corp. was negatively impacted by its exposure to gold, the price of which was flat during the period. MGM China Holdings Ltd., one of six casino operators in Macau, was impacted by successive COVID-19 outbreaks, which affected visitations, and a proposed new gaming regulation framework. Pinterest Inc.'s stock came under pressure after missing its last-quarter estimates, leading to questions around the appeal of its content and its commerce platform. User growth is believed to be flattening and conversion needs to improve in areas if it is to be regarded as competitive to Facebook Inc.

Stock selection, particularly in the information technology sector, contributed to the Fund's performance. An underweight allocation to emerging market equities also contributed to performance. Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included Advanced Micro Devices Inc., Synchrony Financial and ING Groep NV. Advanced Micro Devices Inc. benefited from its ability to acquire semiconductor supplies to support its growth efforts. The company also outlined a strategic rationale regarding its proposed merger with Xilinx Inc., which has cleared several notable regulatory hurdles. Synchrony Financial's shares advanced more than 20% as a result of its strong profitability and surplus capital position becoming better reflected in its valuation. ING Groep NV advanced almost 13% during the period, with September 30 marking the end of the European bank dividend ban. While the interest rate environment remains extremely challenging for European banks, that challenge remains well discounted in the company's undemanding valuation.

We added a new position in Anglo American PLC based on a lower stock price that was driven by a decline in iron ore prices. We like the company's platinum group metals exposure, which we expect to experience better pricing with a resolution of the semiconductor chip shortage by mid-2022. Zoetis Inc. was also purchased for the Fund, and swapped with an existing holding in Elanco Animal Health Inc., based on their relative valuations. We have a positive outlook for the animal health industry space broadly.

We eliminated Equinor ASA to take profits. The company's clean balance sheet, combined with strong cash generation, have allowed it to increase shareholder returns faster than market expectations. The Fund's holding in Prada SpA was eliminated. The company reported better-than-expected interim results. However, because of its performance of second half of 2020, the company expects next year's sales trends to slow year over year amid a weak consumption environment. Considering its high valuation, we took profits and continue to monitor the stock for when the valuation becomes more reasonable.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We believe that the pace of acceleration in economic growth, earnings, monetary and fiscal stimulus, and equity returns should slow into 2022, but still be above-trend. Accommodative monetary policy withdrawal is expected to be gradual and well telegraphed, but we believe that easy financial conditions should persist. Potential risks we will continue to monitor include the possibility of a policy error from China that could slow domestic growth more than expected, rising energy prices pushing inflation up, and lower-than-expected third- and fourth-quarter corporate results.

We expect to see a modest re-acceleration into year-end from the third-quarter economic slowdown. The COVID-19 delta wave has largely subsided, allowing the economic reopening trend to resume.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.

(5) This information is provided for the period ended September 30, 2021 and the years ended March 31.
