RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $3.3 million to $9.8 million from March 31, 2022 to September 30, 2022. The Fund had net redemptions of $3.4 million during the period. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $0.1 million. Series A shares returned 0.4% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2022.

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A shares, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

The following commentary pertains to the results of operations of the CI US Money Market Fund (the Underlying Fund).

Macroeconomic uncertainty continued to be the driving force behind market movements during the period. Market sentiment and volatility throughout the period was influenced by various inflation and economic growth data releases, as well as the central bank discourse surrounding them. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) took an aggressive monetary policy stance, raising its overnight interest rate by 275 basis points (bps) to 3.25% in an attempt to tighten financial conditions and curb rising inflation. The Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Corporate Bond Index, which measures the U.S. investment-grade, fixed-rate, taxable corporate bond market, ended the period approximately 44 bps wider than where it began the period, making it one of the worst years on record so far for fixed income indexes.

With rising interest rates, shorter-term securities in the bond markets provided some of the highest yields seen in years. This translated to a higher overall yield for the Underlying Fund as well. Overweight positions in TDUS BDN Jun. 6, 2023 and Unilever Capital Corp. Oct. 24, 2022 contributed to the Underlying Fund's performance. A floating rate note issued by Florida Power & Light Co. Jan. 12, 2024 was another contributor to performance, generating higher yields as the Fed increased its overnight rate by 2.75% over the period.

The Underlying Fund's large cash position is maintained to meet regulatory requirements as well as the liquidity needs of the Underlying Fund. The Underlying Fund's cash allocation detracted from performance.

We added new positions in Florida Power & Light Co. Jan. 12, 2024 floating rate note and MetLife Global Funding 3.0% Jan. 10, 2023 to the Underlying Fund. Maintaining a laddered maturity structure ensures smooth facilitation of the frequent capital inflows and outflows inherent in money market funds, while also reducing transaction costs. Increases and decreases to positions are made primarily as a result of cash management activities to address flows into and out of the Underlying Fund when they occur. Given the short-term nature of the securities, positions are often eliminated as a result of maturities as they arise. Money market positions are not actively traded as they are of high quality and are often held to maturity absent significant outflows from the Underlying Fund. This limits turnover and transaction costs.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

As monetary policy continues to tighten, short-dated bond yields remain very high relative to their historical average, making current yields quite compelling and attracting buyers focused on total returns. Volatility is likely to remain high as the Fed and other central banks continue to grapple with their policy responses to inflation and economic growth data as it is received. However, as central banks near their terminal rates, our view is that the market should find some stability and riskier assets may experience spread tightening as a result.

While second-quarter earnings were still positive and corporate balance sheets remained in a better position than they were at the start of prior recessionary periods, we did begin to see acknowledgement of higher input costs and waning demand potentially weighing on margins going forward. As we await third-quarter earnings, we continue to position the Underlying Fund in companies that we believe are most resilient in the face of slowing growth.

Effective October 6, 2022, John Sheedy became a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) of CI Funds.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on shareholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.
