RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $9.3 million to $39.4 million from March 31, 2022 to September 30, 2022. The Fund had net redemptions of $1.7 million during the period. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $6.9 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $0.7 million. Series A units returned -15.2% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2022. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -20.2%. The benchmark is the S&P 500 Total Return Index (USD) (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

It was a challenging period for investors as multiple macroeconomic factors continued to cloud market sentiment, leading to heavy selling and losses for North American equity investors. Despite the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic largely behind us (China being the exception with its zero-COVID policy), most economies faced high inflation caused by years of accommodative monetary policy and supply-chain disruptions. Energy and commodity prices rose higher as a result of the Russia-Ukraine conflict. Global central banks raised interest rates in an effort to stem inflation, which led to greater market volatility.

A key concern for market participants has been the consequence of rapidly rising interest rates to the economy and the financial markets. On the economic front, signs of stress appeared with a slowdown in the housing market, higher consumer debt loads and a weaker employment market. In the financial markets, we have seen signs of distress in the U.K. bond market, requiring government intervention to help out the country's pension funds, and widespread losses in most equity and bond markets.

The Fund outperformed its benchmark for the period. Stock selection within the consumer discretionary sector contributed most to the Fund's performance. Within that sector, a lack of exposure to travel-related companies contributed to performance. An overweight position in Humana Inc. was a top individual contributor to the Fund's performance. Its shares performed well, showcasing the company's defensive nature and resilient business model and demonstrating its ability to navigate a challenging macroeconomic environment.

Stock selection in the financials sector detracted from the Fund's performance, as select holdings were negatively impacted by rising interest rates. An overweight position in Broadcom Inc. was one of the top individual detractors from the Fund's performance. The semiconductor industry was under pressure amid continued supply-chain issues, concerns over short-term demand, and increasing geopolitical risk surrounding relations between the U.S. and China regarding Taiwan.

We added a new position in Cheniere Energy Inc. to the Fund and increased an existing holding in Exxon Mobil Corp. A holding in Chevron Corp. was eliminated from the Fund and a position in NextEra Energy Inc. was trimmed.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

In the current environment, we have been highly active in managing the Fund's exposures. We had increased the Fund's exposures to the resources industry, particularly energy, given the long-term implications that the Russia-Ukraine conflict will likely have on those industries. With the increased risk of recession, we have tilted the Fund toward to a quality bias.

Looking ahead, we have a more positive outlook for equity markets given the large decline in stock prices witnessed so far in 2022. We believe that market valuations are reasonable, and that some attractive opportunities exist. This needs to be balanced with near-term concerns relating to the numerous risks present in the current macroeconomic environment. We are cautious buyers, sticking with those companies that can readily navigate a challenging environment, while maintaining capacity to accelerate our buying should risk/return dynamics improve.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.

(5) This information is provided for the period ended September 30, 2022 and the years ended March 31.
