INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The investment objective of the CI Global Resource Corporate Class (the Fund) is to obtain maximum long-term capital growth. It invests primarily in equity and equity related securities of companies engaged in or related to the energy, commodity and natural resource industries throughout the world.

The portfolio advisor identifies companies that offer good value and the potential for strong growth in their industry and then considers the impact of economic trends. The portfolio advisor selects investments it believes are trading below their true value and that offer the potential for consistently high growth potential.

The portfolio advisor uses techniques such as fundamental analysis to assess the value and growth potential of a company. This means evaluating the financial condition and management of a company, its industry, and the overall economy.

The Fund may use derivatives, but only as permitted by securities regulations. In order to earn additional income, the Fund may also enter into securities lending transactions, repurchase transactions and reverse repurchase transactions, to the extent permitted by securities regulations.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the period/year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the period/year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $1.3 million to $45.5 million from March 31, 2023 to March 31, 2024. The Fund had net redemptions of $6.0 million during the year. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $5.2 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $0.5 million. Series A shares returned 11.3% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended March 31, 2024. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 9.5%. The benchmark is a combination of the S&P/TSX Energy Total Return Index - 50% and the S&P/TSX Materials Total Return Index - 50% (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A shares, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Crude oil prices were up over the year. West Texas Intermediate and Brent crude oil prices were up 9.7% and 9.9%, respectively. In Canada, Western Canadian Select crude oil was up 13.7% for the year.

In contrast, natural gas prices in North America declined as drilling activity resulted in more gas supply than demand. Natural gas prices also declined in Europe as the market discounted the likelihood of achieving sufficient gas in storage for the winter. The U.S. Henry Hub natural gas price was down 20.4% while Alberta Energy Company (or AECO) natural gas price declined 37.6%. In Europe, the Title Transfer Facility (more commonly known as TTF) natural gas price was down 41%.

Copper prices were down 2.3% for the year, but recently improved by 19.6% from October 2023 lows. Steel prices were down 26%, while zinc and nickel were down 16.5% and 29.7%, respectively. A slower-than-expected reopening from COVID-19 pandemic lockdowns in China combined with global destocking weighed on many global commodities over the year. The price of gold was up 12.8% and silver up 3.2%.

The Fund outperformed its benchmark during the year. Exposure to exploration and production companies, particularly oil companies, contributed to the Fund's performance. An improvement in copper prices in February and March of 2024 contributed to the Fund's performance as the Fund held an overweight allocation to copper equities. The top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included a holding in Canadian Natural Resources Ltd., given its exposure to both light oil and heavy oil prices. A holding in Capstone Copper Corp., a mid-capitalization copper miner with a new mine in Chile, was another notable contributor to the Fund's performance.

Exposure to lithium detracted from the Fund's performance as lithium prices declined in response to an improving supply and demand balance. The largest individual detractor from the Fund's performance was a holding in First Quantum Minerals Ltd., which suffered when the Panama government shut the company's operations in the country in reaction to populist protests.

CI Global Resource Corporate Class

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended March 31, 2024

We added to the Fund a new position in Capstone Copper Corp. with the proceeds of our sale of the Fund's position in First Quantum Minerals Ltd. A new holding in Canfor Corp. was added to the Fund after the company's share price declined. The holding was added to increase the Fund's lumber exposure. We added B2Gold Corp.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We have a positive mid-term outlook for oil prices given the expected underinvestment in supply while demand continues to increase. However, in the short term, with demand now normalizing to pre-pandemic levels, combined with the potential lag effect of higher interest rates, demand surprises appear less likely. With greater than five million barrels of oil per day of Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries spare capacity, there should be ample capacity to absorb any demand increases or supply disruptions.

With the global destocking coming to an end, 2024 activity is likely to be influenced by the lagged effects of tight monetary policy and improving economic conditions. In an effort to address supply chain risks, the trend of reshoring manufacturing is also expected to be a boost for commodities, especially steel. This will be in addition to the trend of electrification of economies around the globe.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on shareholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended March 31.
