RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $15.9 million to $141.6 million from March 31, 2023 to September 30, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $7.0 million during the period. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $5.1 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $3.8 million. Series A units returned -3.8% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -4.0%. The benchmark is the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (USD) (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

China reopened its doors to international travel in January 2023 after three years of COVID-19 pandemic-related isolation policies. Instead of the expected robust recovery, the Chinese economy faced weak growth, deflation, a real estate crisis and mass unemployment among young adults.

The banking system was shaken by a number of bank failures during the period as short-term interest rates caused significant outflows from traditional bank deposits into money market funds and other more attractive alternatives. Fitch Ratings Inc. downgraded the United States' bond credit rating from AAA to AA+, citing an "erosion of government" manifested in the government's debt ceiling impasses.

The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) delivered another 25-basis-point hike to its policy interest rate at both its May and July 2023 meetings. The Fed signalled that policy rates will remain restrictive until there is clear evidence that inflation is on a path to return to its 2% target. The yield curve remained inverted over the period, but that inversion did narrow.

The Fund slightly outperformed its benchmark for the period. An overweight allocation to structured credit contributed to the Fund's performance. Individually, there were no securities that significantly contributed to the Fund's performance, but collateralized loan obligations (CLOs) and asset-backed securities were the best-performing sectors within the Fund.

Sectors with longer-duration profiles, such as agency mortgage-backed securities and U.S. Treasuries, detracted from the Fund's performance.

We increased the Fund's existing allocation to non-agency mortgage-backed securities (MBS) during the period and trimmed its exposure to agency MBS.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Yields remain attractive across many fixed-income sectors amid higher interest rates and wide credit spreads. However, we expect volatility will likely remain elevated as the probability of a U.S. recession remains high and the Fed nears the end of its interest rate hiking cycle. Restrictive monetary policy should persist until economic data, which currently shows signs of continued labour market strength and wage growth, begin to deteriorate.

We expect shorter-term interest rates to remain susceptible to central banks' fine tuning and the time needed to maintain a restrictive monetary stance. Meanwhile, we expect the longer end of the yield curve could remain susceptible to an uncertain growth outlook, repricing of term premium risk and supply and demand dynamics.

In this environment, we favour high-quality assets and continue to utilize paydowns to systematically upgrade the quality of the Fund's credit holdings. We favour structured credit over corporate credit as we believe it offers more attractive spread levels while benefiting from structural protections, such as credit enhancements.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended September 30, 2023 and March 31.

(6) Per units amounts are presented in Canadian dollars.

(7) Closing market price.
