RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $0.2 million to $1.3 million from March 31, 2022 to September 30, 2022. The Fund had net redemptions of $0.1 million during the period. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $0.1 million. Series I units returned -5.3% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2022. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -6.9%. The benchmark is a combination of the FTSE Canada Real Return Bond Total Return Index - 55% and the FTSE Canada All Government Bond Total Return Index - 45% (the Benchmark or the Index).

During the period, any notion that global inflation was transitory was quashed as price pressures broadened out across geographies and sectors. This entrenched higher wages since labour markets were tight, with a significant level of job openings. Rising inflation acted as a backdrop to a global interest rate increases by many of the world's central banks. Increases in policy rates were the most aggressive in a generation as central banks strove to become restrictive after more than a decade of extremely accommodative monetary policy. Volatility in both bond markets and equity markets was significantly elevated during the period.

The Fund outperformed its benchmark for the period. A strategy of short duration (sensitivity to interest rates) relative to the benchmark contributed to the Fund's performance as bond prices declined. The largest individual contributor to performance included a holding in Government of Canada real return bond (RRB) 3.0% Dec. 1, 2036. It benefited from its short duration profile.

An overweight exposure to RRB versus nominal bonds detracted from the Fund's performance. High inflation produced higher interest payments on the RRBs held by the Fund.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect that economic data will likely weaken toward the end of the year. Investors will be eagerly looking for a shift by the central banks that may indicate an end to the monetary tightening cycle. We believe that the key data points to follow are likely to revolve around the labour market.

With the shift in consumer spending from goods to services, we believe there will be significant deflation in both durable and non-durable goods, but that the pricing of services should continue to trend higher. Therefore, we expect headline inflation to drift lower as a result of discounting from retailers. However, the "stickier" components of inflation (mostly services) are likely to remain uncomfortably high and may postpone any central bank shift in 2022.

Independent Review Committee

Effective October 6, 2022, John Sheedy became a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) of CI Funds.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.

(5) This information is provided for the period ended September 30, 2022 and the years ended March 31.
